

MELT AWAY FAT WITH ACCENT ULTRA

PAINLESSLY PULVERISES THOSE STUBBORN BUMPS

Many do not know that after a certain age, some accumulated fat can become stagnated that cannot be addressed with regular exercise. These areas have been aptly named saddle backs, muffin tops, bra bulge, belt bulge, love handles, man boobs and so on.

Now, many will be glad to know that there is a technology available to melt away these localised fats – the Accent Ultra.

Dr. Nimi Sutina Nordin says, “Accent Ultra is a non-invasive lipolysis-inducing (encourages the breakdown of fat) equipment that uses a third-generation ‘cold’ ultrasound to break down the fat cells. It is one technology that is guaranteed to deliver desirable results.”

The science behind it is simple yet unique. From the laboratories of Alma Lasers Ltd., the state-of-the-art Accent Ultra delivers ultrasound on the surface of the skin that matches the frequency of the membranes of fat cells, causing them to weaken and break. “For fat cells to disappear completely, its membranes must first be broken before the lipids (class of fatty acids) can be flushed out. Or else, cells will only just shrink. Studies have shown that a biopsy can be done immediately after a session with Accent Ultra and the pulverised fats can be seen,” explains Dr. Sutina.

Over a few days, the lipids will be released with the membranes broken and collapsed. The membranes will start to compact and some will eventually dissolve. By the third day, some visible results may be seen and by 14 days, most of the lipids would have been absorbed or metabolised by the body as waste product, and that warrants subsequent treatment.

“Per area, a minimum of five one-hour sessions are required for optimum results, although the sessions can be repeated to the patient’s desire. But having said that, some of our patients are already very happy with the results after just two or three sessions,” says Dr. Sutina. Accent Ultra is combined with a radiofrequency module that increases lipid drainage and improves skin contraction through collagen stimulation.

Before the procedure, a consultation is necessary to evaluate and inform the patient on what to expect and to plan out treatment sessions. Pictures and measurements are gathered after each session to monitor the patient’s progress. Up to 10 centimetres off targeted areas can be achieved. Only one hour per session is recommended as the patient can feel quite tired because the body plays a role in burning the fat. Throughout the session, the patient will feel comfortable as the procedure is painless, safe and with no downtime.

“Many women run dual lives. They have their work life and their family life. So, they will come for a session, maybe during their lunch break, and resume their lives without any worries after that,” shares Dr. Sutina. With additional worries of scarring from surgical procedures, Dr. Sutina believes that there is a tidal shift towards non-invasive procedures for body contouring with equipments like Accent Ultra.

IDEAL FOR BODY CONTOURING

Located in the heart of Kuala Lumpur, Mediyong Beauty Centre has been providing various types of beauty treatments and expert beauty consultations for years. Mediyong's experienced beauty consultant, Ivon Wong, knows the importance of providing quality consultations to her clients. "Each person's problems and requirements vary, but not everyone is a candidate for certain treatments. Therefore, we will compile and forward our clients' details to Dr. Ng Kuan Choong for his professional analysis and recommended treatment options to suit each client," explains Ms. Wong.

Dr. Ng Kuan Choong says the Accent Ultra is ideal for body contouring.

Dr. Ng, also with years of experience in the medical beauty line, performs various treatments, but one of the more popular treatments that he usually recommends is the Accent Ultra, a novel body contouring workstation introduced by NeoAsia. "To put it simply, Accent Ultra uses a resonance vibration technique that selectively breaks down fat cells, without disrupting the surrounding tissues such as blood vessels, nerves and connective fascia," Dr. Ng explains.

Easy to operate and effective, Accent Ultra provides a safe way to administrate external lipolysis treatment without the risks of burns or tissue damage that is usually a worry with preceding technologies.

"A lot of people want to be beautiful but they are afraid to go through the pain and the long downtime. With Accent Ultra, there is no downtime, recuperation period, uncomfortable side effects and of course, it is totally pain-free. It is one of the first real alternatives to surgical procedures for body contouring," says Dr. Ng.
